

Equity Financial Trust Implements Delta 360's End-to-End Mortgage Solution

MARKHAM, ONTARIO--(Marketwired – January 23, 2017) Delta 360 Inc., a leading provider of mortgage and lending software solutions, is pleased to announce that Equity Financial Trust has implemented the company's LMS360 end-to-end mortgage processing solution. This implementation integrates all of the LMS360 origination and servicing modules, and includes a full data conversion from Equity Financial Trust's existing mortgage platform.

"We are proud to have Equity Financial Trust on board with our LMS360 suite," says Derek Cook, President of Delta 360. "We believe the new platform perfectly positions Equity Financial Trust for future growth while allowing them to implement new digital innovations down the road. Our configurable platform allows Equity Financial Trust to setup new products and customize business rules, giving them the flexibility to react to market changes at a lower total cost of ownership."

"We are very pleased to have launched Delta 360's origination and servicing platform, LMS360," says Michael Jones, President and CEO of Equity Financial Trust. "The platform will support our growth and development over the next several years and is very well suited for a mortgage lender in our space. We are particularly pleased with the immediate efficiency improvements it has made possible in our lending and servicing processes, and look forward to launching a series of new products and features made possible by the system's flexible architecture."
